“The Junior Fellows Program was the most singular experience I have ever had in my life. My experience in the Japan program has been invaluable in preparing me for my future goal of collaborating with diverse groups to tackle humanity’s greatest challenges. Through cultural immersion and teamwork with Japanese peers, I’ve honed my ability to communicate and cooperate across cultural boundaries. The program taught me to appreciate different perspectives and problem-solving approaches, skills crucial for addressing global issues.”

– Participant from Greenwich, CT

"My time with the Junior Fellows Program allowed me to see the world from a completely different perspective and has allowed me to gain a far more mature understanding of Japanese culture, business, and society than I would have ever imagined. It was an experience that has truly changed my life for the better and I will never forget it!"

– Participant from Demarest, NJ

"The Junior Fellows Program has given me the opportunity to better myself and grow in many areas. Throughout the program, I have matured as a person and have wrestled with the ideas of independence and responsibility. My understanding of Japan has been deepened and so has my love for the country. After my experience in Japan, I will never see the world in the same way I did before."

– Participant from Belleville, NJ

- Mid-March: Announcement of 1st selection
- April 5 (Saturday): Group interviews with finalists (invitation only)
- Mid-April: Final selection and announcement of 2025 Junior Fellow participants

Notes

- Application documents will not be returned.
- Applications submitted by ineligible participants or postmarked after the deadline will not be considered.
- Each applicant is responsible for ensuring that their application is complete. Only complete applications will be considered for review.
- Due to the large number of applications received, we are unable to provide feedback to applicants who are not admitted.

Program Costs & Participation Fee

- The Junior Fellows Leadership Program is made possible by the generous underwriting of Japan Society donors and supporters. Tuition offsets the partial cost of the 2.5-week program: orientation and arrangements, all international and domestic travel, meals and accommodations as well as all admissions during study trips. Fellows are responsible for additional expenses, such as pocket money and additional meals/snacks that are not taken with host families or program staff.
- Tuition: $3,500

Financial Aid

Japan Society offers need-based financial aid to provide support for students facing financial barriers who are participating in the Junior Fellows Leadership Program. We are committed to ensuring that financial constraints do not prevent students from participating in this program. Once you are selected as a Junior Fellow, Japan Society will work closely with you and your family to understand your family's needs and situation so that we can provide as much financial support as possible. After your selection, you will be requested to submit official financial information such as IRS Form 1040.

"Meeting leaders from various fields was eye-opening and provided me with valuable insights into how they manage themselves and the people they work with to achieve success. Experiencing first-hand presentations from these leaders and learning about their work deepened my understanding of what true leadership means."

– Participant from New York, NY

Program Details

Leader Meetings & Networking Reception

Junior Fellows will meet with current leaders and professionals from various fields through company visits, individual meetings and a post-program reception. Previous Junior Fellows have had the opportunity to speak with senior business executives, government representatives, media personalities, entrepreneurs, ranking UN policy advisors, leading photojournalists, architects, artists, educators and nonprofit executives.

Homestay & School Experience

Fellows will experience Japanese life through a homestay with a local host family. Fellows will attend a local high school and participate in various activities as they complete their team research projects. Program leaders will facilitate programs that allow the Junior Fellows to gain a better understanding of local cuisine, traditions and history.

Team Research Project

Prior to departure, Junior Fellows will conduct research in teams on a topic based on one of the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Each team will select a topic from the SDGs and develop a survey related to the topic. Fellows will administer their surveys in the U.S. and Japan for a comparative study of the two countries. During their homestay, Fellows will continue to study, discuss and further explore their topic through personal engagement with the local community.

Post-Program Reception & Project Presentation

After their return to the U.S., Fellows will present their research projects to leaders and their cohort at the post-program reception in August. Upon returning to school, Fellows are also encouraged to share their experiences and projects on-campus, as well as create an online exhibition about the town and school in which they stayed.

Junior Fellows Alumni Association (JFAA)

Throughout the program, Junior Fellows will meet with program alumni. As mentors, alumni will share tips on how to successfully complete the program and how to make the most out of their experience. Alumni also discuss their post-program experiences with the college selection process, finding internships and career planning. After completion of the program, all Junior Fellows will actively participate in Japan Society programs and continue to expand their network and develop their leadership skills as members of the JFAA.
